AJHAE: MISSING CHILDREN PROGRAM

Reconstructed public copy. The original 2024-2025 PDF link on AJHAE's former host is broken. This reconstruction contains only language recoverable from AJHAE's archived website and AJHAE handbook; it does not add new school procedures.

AJHAE participates in efforts to help identify and locate missing children.

At enrollment, families may be asked to provide prior school records and any court order regarding custody or parental rights, consistent with this goal.

The archived AJHAE website copy also directed families to maintain identifying and medical information for their children and referenced the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

For assistance concerning a missing child, families may contact law enforcement and the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children at 1-800-THE-LOST (1-800-843-5678).
